I'll be honest, I really don't know HOW to summarize the MCSR mural experience other than attacking a Warrior Cats mural, Feinberg getting into a call with the Warrior Cats representative, an alliance forming, the alliance declaring war on a Russian streamer with 14k viewers (and winning, btw), and the Warrior Cats community offering to... help us attack NATO right above us if we wanted more space to make more faces your streamer is leading the battle <3 our streamer places blushes on the man he did vaguely homoerotic roleplay with <3 love wins!!

"The Warrior Cats community offering to help us attack NATO right above us if we wanted more space to make more faces" I love Reddit Geopolitics. Imagine if this was what we saw on the news everyday.

Good luck to MCSR! Idk how on board HC is with "invading" because we were (are) screaming at our rogues to NOT INVADE but we WILL support MCSR!

This is an roller coaster ride. This is a marathon. I am speedrunning through every emotion possible.

To continue with the absolute madness that was this saga:

It started out innocently enough with the Warrior Cats alliance (which was its own set of shenanigans but I genuinely don't think I have the words to explain what the experience of listening to Fein's stream at that moment was). We take over, fight the anime people for a bit and then help out the Warrior Cats people. Everything is well.

MCSR is building the current main category World Record holders at the moment. We're vibing. And then suddenly - five minutes late because everyone is too busy with r/place - the pace ping comes in. 1.15 WR got broken while everyone was fighting for their pixels. So promptly everyone scrambles to replace the face of the former WR holder with the new one (sorry, Doug!).

Feinberg gets off after helping with the beautiful Netherscape we built. IMMEDIATELY, Sapnap threatens to wipe us all out to put Foolish's butt there, but thankfully chat fights him for us and the dsmp streamers move on to a different part of the canvas.

We think we have peace for a bit. Promptly, Ludwig shows up and starts staring at our area. Everyone freaks out like crazy but as it turns out, Ludwig is the unlikely saviour. He wipes out the spain-french war that was going on directly below us and puts a mural of Iroh there (we do not talk about what was the first idea) and also protects our little corner from XQC.

Right now, we're vibing after surviving the night, even though random people keep trying to either eboy-ify or frenchify our streamers. If you wanna help out, coords are 1436 1436, we'd appreciate anyone who wants to place some pixels.

Very important MCSR bit I forgot about is the percentage on the loading screen changing constantly (it originally said 69%, of course)

Ahhh, the good ole griefing. SpaceX Sexy Sex, Kermitcraft, Genshrek is with you 😊😊

Btw I like how Minecraft uses pixels so one can instantly tell what this is about even with such a small scale mural <3

jayqueenofhugs asked:

Good morning whenever you wake up and hear about the void attack lmao, I could probably provide some amount of summary but I left in the middle to go make hot chocolate so I'm not the best source of information.

Ngl, all I know is that xQc went right though the Hermitcraft logo and kept doubling back while we were rebuilding so we had to hold for quite a bit before we could repair. Oh, and a bunch of rogues were building the Hermitcraft logo too far to the left.

(From the MCSR side of things, Ludwig took over the France/Spain flag war to make an ATLA tribute and so there's a chance that we might be protected from a future void's path by virtue of being near Ludwig? I'm not counting on it but we can hope.)

(continued) o7, I'm off to bed, hopefully I don't wake up to disaster. (Oh, and in case anyone didn't know about this, please don't add blush to Pete's skin! He's said he doesn't want it there

riacte answered:

Ahhh tsm for the recap! I woke up and saw that everything was normal, did not know about the void immediately shdhjwdj

jayqueenofhugs asked:

MCSR update, currently being hard botched (as is Warrior Cats), but apparently if we help a streamer attack NATO, they'll help us out? Or something? Idk, I just woke up

riacte answered:

Oh noooo ;-; I think mcsr is gonna try coordinate with hc right now, I'll be checking discord!

jayqueenofhugs asked:

Oh, an update on Pete since I woke up by the way, he's said in his Discord now that he's fine with blush as long as the other faces have it

MCSR under hard attack </3 unfortunately what we're defending against is. incredibly NSFW so I can't exactly do a call to arms about it. If anyone who isn't uncomfortable with NSFW art is willing to help out, we're trying to restore our bastion, but... I'm not gonna lie, it's pretty bad at the moment 😞 Not gonna be sending the coords because I don't exactly want to direct people over to it

I saw 😞 there's also a void above it now so....

jayqueenofhugs asked:

What a day for MCSR... I woke up to the attack, immediately tried to rally Hermitcraft/MCC to help out, and it almost instantly turned NSFW. And then Reddit nuked it, we immediately started to rebuild, and almost instantly got our fastion voided by Mizkif </3 we're holding strong on everything else right now though, gonna rebuild whenever he's gone

riacte answered:

Just took a look and yikes, half of the area just went poof 😞

Stay strong! HC discord is currently keeping an eye on mcsr in addition to the usual maintenance. I hope the canvas stays open long enough for fix it!!
